

American Communal Societies Quarterly

Volume 1, no. 3 — July 2007

Table of Contents

From the Editor	98
Sally Dean and Her Letter to “Respected Friend Phineas”
Introduction by Glendyne Wergland	99
Reprint of letters	105
The Shaker Leaf Song: Solving a Perplexing Puzzle	117
by Roger L. Hall
Church of Christ unto a People in Kentucky
Introduction by Ralph Stenstrom	127
Reprint of document	132
Comment	135
Hamilton College Library “Home Notes”
Hamilton College Acquires The Shaker Messenger Archive	137
Communal Societies Collection: New Acquisitions	139

Front cover illustration: [Photograph, 1920s]. House of David baseball players. Front row, l. to r.: Dutch Faust, shortstop; Cookie Hannaford, outfielder; David Harrison, third baseman; back row: Zeke Baushke, second baseman; and Andy Bell, utility player. The House of David barnstorming baseball team was famous for its pepper game and performed from ca. 1912 to 1936. Faust, who may have been the best natural athlete at the House of David, and Baushke were known as the “diamond cutters” for their prowess at turning the double play. Photo from Clare Adkin’s House of David collection, which was recently acquired by the Hamilton College Library. More information about the collection will be available in a future issue of the Quarterly.